

hi

My name is Lisa

This is me!

Lisa Garforth
Educational Psychologist

What we might do together:

- Talk about what is important to you or things you are good at.
- Talk about some of the things you find tricky.
- Play some games or do some activities.
- Do some questionnaires together.
- I might also come into your classroom to see what this is like. You might like to show me some of your work.

What is my job?

I work with children and young people, like you, to find out what they are good at and what they sometimes find hard.

I would like to talk to you, your family, and teachers to help with school and learning.

I like to ask questions. These might be about school, what you like or don't like, the future, how you are feeling or things that are important to you. There is no right or wrong answer about these kind of things!...and you don't have to answer if you don't want to.

My job is called an Educational Psychologist, but you can call me Lisa.

A bit about me

What is important to me:

- Family
- Friends
- My dog (Beau)
- Time for relaxing
- My job

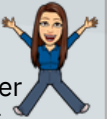

I want to get better at:

- Getting fit
- Crocheting
- Reading more books

People describe me as:

- Friendly
- Happy
- Caring
- Good listener
- Energetic

What happens if you don't want to work with me?

You don't have to meet with me if you don't want to. When you meet me, you can stop the activity or leave at any time.

We will only meet and do as much as you would like to.

What happens next?

When we meet, I will introduce myself and explain what we will do during our session. If you have any questions you can write them down or ask someone to write them down for you and I will do my best to answer them when we meet.
